

D. CRAWFORD & COMPANY

ADOLPH HELLER'S BARGAIN STOCK OF HOSIERY AND UNDERWEAR,

FROM EIGHTH AND ARCH STREETS, PHILADELPHIA.

Wait not because of wintry breezes, pause not though the siren voices of competition lure you on to so-called bargains, but steer your course toward the beacon light of the GREAT BROADWAY BAZAAR, where the finest goods of Quakerdom are to be had by the far-sighted cash buyer for half their worth. The name of ADOLPH HELLER may be seen printed on the tabs on most of his goods, with the prices in plain figures. Note the difference between them and CRAWFORD'S prices.

THE TWO STRIKES.

Very Little Change in the Situation To-Day.

There are two separate and distinct sets of strikers in the city, each actively engaged in doing nothing but holding meetings and waiting. The wait-papers men are still out and have had no conciliatory messages as yet from the bosses. This is due in a measure to a lack of co-operation on the part of the bosses. As an organization the wait-papers men have taken back none of the strikers, but several establishments have employed one or two on the quiet for important jobs of work which could not wait. The strikers will hold a meeting at their rooms, 505 Olive street, to-night. The early part of the meeting will be open to the public and the affairs of the strikers will be freely discussed. After the open meeting the usual business meeting will follow.

The brass workers from the Eite & Henger Manufacturing Co. are all out and have made their headquarters at the Central Union Hall on Tenth and Market streets. The brass workers have won over all the molders and polisher in the establishment, and business there is reported to be at a standstill for the time. The Eite & Henger foundry is the only place where there is any trouble, the other shops going on as usual, except that the men employed in them advocate the side of the strikers. A meeting will be held by them tomorrow night to lay out a plan of campaign.

Households and Mates Organized.

The "households" completed the organization of a union at Labor Headquarters, 418 South Fourth, Saturday night. It is wholly of the colored persuasion, is called the "Longshoremen's Union," and starts out with about 300 members. It is chartered by the American Federation of Labor, and will affiliate with the Trades and Labor Union. The object is protection and beneficial. Sick, funeral and death benefits are paid.

Parents Should Not Miss It.

To see our baby boys' suits from $1.45 to $2.50. Finest Baltimore Tailor-made suits from $4 to $7.50.

The Weather.

The weather yesterday and to-day, according to the deductions of the Signal Service, is not unusual for this time of the year. The temperatures are about the same as they were this time last year, and except for the snow there is but little difference between the two periods. The maximum temperature yesterday was 45 degs. and the minimum

25. The predictions for to-day are that the snow will continue and that it will be warmer to-morrow after a night of almost stationary temperature. All through the northwest Mississippi Valley it is cold and in some parts three or four inches of snow is reported. From Texas a storm is coming this way and is pretty severe. How far north it will extend depends much on the changes to-night. The snowfall here has been so light as not to be considered worthy of particular mention except in account of the competition for the snow.

Died From Dancin'.

Edward Brady, 18 years old, died in a peculiar manner yesterday morning. Brady attended a party given by Andrew Milne of No. 277 Wash street. It is said that he danced continuously until about 1 o'clock in the morning, when, just as a set had ended, he fell to the floor in a faint. Three doctors were summoned, and did all in their power for the young man, without avail. He lingered in unconsciousness until 8 o'clock, when he expired. Heart failure superinduced by excessive dancing is supposed to have caused his death. The coroner will hold an inquest to-day.

It is not often that a cigar is favorably known throughout the entire country. The "MIRABILIA" five-cent cigar can be found on sale from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.

Jim Cronin's Barkeeper.

Tom Koeper, Jim Cronin's barkeeper, succeeded in getting himself into trouble with his revolver this morning. While loaded to the guards he drew a revolver in the house No. 118 Chestnut street and shot at Jessie Morris, but missed her. He ran out and a few minutes later he was flourishing his pistol in Ed White's saloon at 112 Chestnut street, where he shot and killed a colored man, and hit him in the ankle. Fourteenth street and home at 714 North Third street. He was arrested by Detectives Allen and Viehe on Eleventh and Chestnut streets and is now in the cooler at the Four Courts.

His Plea Refused.

William Hart, who with Jack Burke and Tom O'Fallon is accused of holding up Alonzo Chiquette last Wednesday afternoon, owing to his youth was to have been allowed to plead guilty to petit larceny, but his plea was refused so that after hearing the case the court held him for the grand jury in the sum of $500.

REAL ESTATE INTERESTS.

A Brisker Demand for Residence Properties—Sales of the Day.

Considering the snowstorm the real estate business opened well. Indications for the week are better than for some time past, yesterday having been the most favorable Sunday for the inspection of vacant properties that has been experienced in nearly two months.

No decision has been reached yet in the question of the hotel site. Festus J. Wade says "The Commonwealth Realty Co.," having this enterprise in charge, "will hold a meeting with reference to the matter at 4 o'clock this afternoon." He did not say when a location would be agreed upon.

FOREST PARK PLACE.

The sale of fine residence lots in Forest Park place was resumed this morning by the purchase of 202 ft. of ground at No. 2118 North Tenth street, embracing a frontage of 55 feet by a depth of 140 on Market street.

Charles H. Gleason & Co. sold 23x137 feet of ground on the east line of Twenty-first street between Drexel and Madison streets, for $800, from Charles G. Stifel to Conrad Hill.

GEORGE NOONAN DEAD.

The Mayor's Brother Carried Off by Pneumonia.

George B. Noonan, brother of Mayor Noonan, is dead. This will be a surprise to many who knew him, for the news had not been generally circulated about town, and only the members of the Mayor's family and their intimate friends knew of the death when it occurred.

John Regna, a colored man living on Gratiot, near Main street, appeared in the First District Police Court with head and face covered with bandages to-day to answer to a charge of resisting an officer, and his wife was also a prisoner under the same charge.
